Phan Rang-Thap Cham, the old capital of the last Cham kingdom, Panduranga, in Ninh Thuan, Khanh Hoa Province is located about 350 km from Ho Chi Minh City and just over 120 km northeast of the Pandanus Resort. The Cham temple-towers are beautiful memorials to Cham kings and queens. Although most of the towers between Da Nang and Phan Thiet are in ruins, there are two sites in the area around Phan Rang-Thap Cham that are still in use for many of the colourful Cham festivals and celebrations: Po Klong Garai and Po Rome Cham Towers.

Meals: Optional typical Cham family lunch from VND 50.000 per person, reservations recommended. Ask our Guest Relations staff members for Cham menu options.

Programme of the day:

- 08:30 Departure. Optional photo stops along the way at the White Sand Hill (Cat Trang Binh Thuan) and at a typical fruit garden along the highway on the way to Phan Rang-Thap Cham.
- 11:00 Arrival at Po Klong Garai Cham Towers. The temple-towers were erected by King Jaya Simhavarman III to honour the legendary King Po Klong Garai (1151-1205) for his honourable deeds and for developing agriculture and constructing irrigation systems throughout Champa. His likeness is depicted on a lingam in the sanctuary of the central tower. Count 60 minutes for a walk up the hill to visit the towers, time for shopping and a quick museum visit are provided. Alternatively you can order a buggy to take you up the hill.

- 12:15 Optional lunch (not included) at Sen Charail Lotus Garden in My Nghiep village: Enjoy the views in the middle of a vast lotus farm with traditional food prepared by a Cham family. (Alternative for holidays and bad weather in the rainy season: Khanh Ky chicken rice restaurant in the city centre of Phan Rang).

- 13:00 Departure for My Nghiep Weaving Village – the village is located 10 km outside of Phan Rang City and has a reputation for its high-quality woven products and well-preserved Cham culture. Over the years, the local Cham have developed techniques to weave brocade according to a traditional method. Visit the My Nghiep women’s cooperative.

- 14:00 Drive to Bau Truc, a pottery craft village that has existed since the reign of Cham King Po Klong Garai and is considered one of the oldest pottery villages in Southeast Asia. The hand-manipulated techniques they use have been passed down from generation to generation, and they make the products remarkably distinguishable from others. Stops at one of Bau Truc’s pottery families home and the local pottery cooperative (takes approximately one hour).

- 15:00 Departure for Po Rome Cham Tower which was built in the 17th century, 15 kilometres from Phan Rang. This is one of the biggest towers of the Cham people and is also the final one to be built in Champa. This tower was created to worship Shiva, but was later considered as the resting place for King Po Rome (1627-1651), the last king of the independent Champa Empire.

- 18:00 Return to the resort.
